Fontana Unified School Earns Recognition for Cultivating Positive School Environment Jurupa Hills High School will be recognized at state PBIS conference

FONTANA, Calif. – Just two years after implementing an intervention program that fosters a positive and supportive campus environment, Jurupa Hills High School has been recognized by the state for its successful efforts in boosting student excellence and shrinking behavioral issues.

Jurupa Hills earned a bronze certification from the California PBIS (Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports) Conference in Sacramento.

"We are very proud of our school's success in creating a positive school environment that is conducive to academic achievement. Our entire administrative staff and community have bought into this vision and are working hard to make it a reality," said Principal Dr. Michael C. Johnson. "This recognition is a testament to the hard work and dedication of our students, faculty, and staff."
